Motion was made by Mr. Davis, which carried 5:0, to adopt the following resolution:

RESOLUTION HONORING GLADYS B. UPP
UPON THE OCCASION OF HER 100TH BIRTHDAY

WHEREAS, Gladys B. Upp was born January 28, 1908, the oldest of four children born to Robert and Hamner Bradenham in New Kent County, Virginia; and

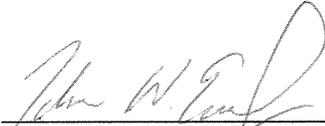

WHEREAS, upon her graduation from Harrisonburg Teachers' College in 1929, she began her career as a teacher in New Kent at a one-room schoolhouse at the current site of the Quinton Community Center and continued teaching in New Kent until her retirement in 1973; and

WHEREAS, she later married Edgar W. Upp and had one daughter, Barbara U. Gregory, and remained active in her community and her church; and

WHEREAS, Mrs. Upp's dedication to her profession is evident in her favorite saying "I never taught a child I didn't love"; and

WHEREAS, Gladys B. Upp will be one hundred years young on January 28, 2008, which will be recognized by her family and friends at Tabernacle United Methodist Church on January 27, 2008;

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the New Kent County Board of Supervisors does hereby applaud and congratulate Gladys B. Upp upon the glorious occasion of her one hundredth birthday, and wishes her many more birthdays to come and success in all future endeavors.
